Bucks County Represented In Many Classes

HARRISBURG — Two Dublin farmers, Willard H. Meyers and Claud Bryan, won poultry prizes in the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Meyers won awards for pullets from his Bucks County farm, first place for a hen and third place for a cock.

Bryan's fowl won three first prizes for white Plymouth Rock hen and cock and black rose comb bantam cock. A black rose cock bantam from Bryan's farm won second place in its class.

4-H Prize
Another first prize poultry winner from Bucks County was a white rooster entered by Daniel H. Meas, of Milford Square, in the 4-H classes.

A silver Sebright bantam hen and cock won fifth place in its class for Lloyd H. Stover, of Doylestown.

Several Bucks County poultrymen won awards in the egg judging. They were John Melsky, Newtown RD 2, fourth in dozen brown eggs, followed in the class by Ben Neff, Ottaville RD 2.

Prize For Eggs
Dozen white eggs, farmers' class: Fourth, Harry Meades, Kellers Church; seventh, Sidney Press, Line Lexington; eighth, Henry Gehring, Quakertown; ninth, E. Rich, Kittensville.

Dozen brown eggs, farmers' class: Seventh, William Ghegan, Mechanicsville; eighth, Henry Gehring, Quakertown; ninth, John Mathias, Chalfont; tenth, G. Litz, Doylestown RD 2.

Six dozen case-packed brown eggs: Third place, Bucks County Produce Co., Doylestown.

4-H Egg Prize
Dozen white eggs, 4-H Clubs: Fifth, Joanne Taylor, Newtown; seventh, Larry Comly, Buckingham Valley; eighth, C. Taylor, Plumsteadville.

Dozen brown eggs: First, Clarence Taylor, Plumsteadville; gold medal award for best dozen eggs in farmers' class, John Chittick, Danboro; best six dozen in commercial pack class, Bucks County Produce Corporation, Doylestown.

Spring gilts raised by Robert Simons, of Springtown, won 11th place in the junior class and 14th in the senior class.

Charles Granger, Dublin poultryman, addressing the Pennsylvania State Poultrymen Federation, reported on the diagnostic laboratory at the National Agricultural College, Doylestown. Edward Fleming, of Andalusia, completing a term as president of the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers' Association, was made junior past president.

Vocational Site To Be Purchased Committee Seeks Funds For Deal

The joint vocational school committee last night agreed to seek funds for the purchase of a site for the proposed Lower Bucks County Vocational School.

Howard C. Taylor, committee chairman, said each representative of the joint committee will request their respective school boards to set aside an unrevoked sum of money to permit the purchase of a school site.

Taylor said the reason for this move was contingent on the sharp increase in land prices which may be encountered if the land has to be purchased later.

Don't Want To Wait
The committee agreed that it would not be wise to await the next state legislature for approval of funds. It was felt that by 1955 the price of land would be unreasonable.

Congress Voices Support For Rise In Social Security

Survey Reveals Backing For Ike's Program

WASHINGTON — INS — President Eisenhower's proposal to raise Social Security benefits and extend them to ten million more persons received bi-partisan support today on Capitol Hill.

The President's program to broaden federal assistance in the realm of economic security was given more approval than any he has sent to Congress since the new session got under way Jan. 6.

A survey of key congressmen and senators disclosed unqualified backing of Mr. Eisenhower's plan to boost old age benefits for six million Americans next October.

$5 to $10 Increases
As outlined in bills introduced by Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R) New York, of the House Ways and Means committee, the increases would range from $5 to $10.50 per month.

His bills would increase maximum benefits from the present $85 to $108.50 a month. The top payment to a married person would go up from $127.50 to $162.75. The maximum family benefit would be raised from $168.75 to $190 a month.

The President called the present system "basically sound," but he proposed other measures designed to correct what he called "shortcomings."

New Aid To States
His recommendations included: Collect the Social Security tax on the first $4,200 of annual wages instead of the present $3,600. This would mean a $12 increase for those earning $4,200 or more a year.

A new formula for making payments to states to care for the needy and destitute. The federal government now pays up to $35 for each person on state public assistance rolls.

Extend Social Security coverage to ten million self-employed farmers, farm and domestic workers, self-employed professionals and others.

Permit a Social Security beneficiary to earn up to $1,000 a year. At present, beneficiaries forfeit benefits in a month in which they earn more than $75.

The President said the present scheduled increases in tax payments will pay for the added costs "for at least the next 15 to 25 years."

DIVORCES JOHNNY RAY
JUAREZ, Mex. (INS) — Marilyn Morrison Ray, wife of Singer Johnny Ray, was granted a divorce Thursday in Juarez, Mexico.

It's Little Warmer But Not for Long

You can hang up that extra wool sweater and muffler today, but be ready to put them on again Sunday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Trenton, N. J., predicted mild temperatures today, dropping to no lower than 30 degrees tonight, cloudiness and rain.

Tomorrow it may rain, the weatherman said, but the thermometer will approach 40. Sunday's forecast predicts colder, and partly cloudy weather, as a sub-zero cold wave approaches from Montana and western Canada. Sunday temperatures are expected to touch 15 degrees here.

Last night's snowfall was measured at 1½ inches by the Trenton bureau.

County Bankers Plead For Delay In Merger Okays

The Bucks County Bankers Association, in letters to State Banking Secretary E. Merle Campbell and U. S. Treasury Comptroller Ray M. Gidney, has asked that approval of bank mergers across county lines be delayed until March.

At that time the Bucks County bankers' special committee on branch banking will make a report to the Pennsylvania Bankers Association Council of Administration in a meeting at Skytop Lodge.

"Inasmuch as the committee is giving careful study to the problem, its recommendations deserve careful consideration," the letter stated. "The report of the committee may result in the presentation of a legislative program which will have the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Bankers Assn. and the banks of Pennsylvania."

"Approval of mergers across county lines at this time is in contravention of the spirit of the work of this committee. We believe the committee deserves the support of the banks of Pennsylvania and their supervisory authorities, certainly to the extent of awaiting the results of their findings."

The group added that the PBA "deserves the highest praise for its forthright approach to a study of the problems of cross county bank mergers." It also remarked that its stand was not "based on the specter of competition, for there are many instances indicating that the local bank thrives in the shadow of a branch of a big city neighbor, rather on the need to maintain independent financial institutions to preserve the financial health and stability of our country."

Slippery Conditions On Lower Bucks County Roads
Slippery conditions on Lower Bucks County roads last night and early this morning caused a rash of traffic accidents in which three persons were injured.

At 3:50 a. m. today a tractor-trailer operated by Thomas E. Byrd, 36, of 2311 North Colorado street, Philadelphia, went into a skid on a curve of Route 1 near Holiday Inn, Falls Township, and collided head-on with another tractor-trailer.

The cab of Byrd's rig was demolished and the motor torn out by the impact.

Rushed to Hospital
Byrd was rushed to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., by the Union Fire Company ambulance of Morrisville in critical condition. He suffered multiple cuts, broken right arm and possible skull fracture. Today his condition was fair.

Driver of the other vehicle was Isadore Kivitz, 56, of 605 East Clementine street, Philadelphia. Police Chief Franklin Kirby reported. He was treated at Mercer Hospital for a foot injury. The cab of Kivitz' vehicle was smashed.

William N. Stenham of 31 North Delaware avenue, Yardley, was struck by a car at 7:30 p. m. yesterday in front of his home as he roused in the street placing chains on the wheels of his pickup truck.

Skidding Auto
Police Chief Raymond Hoagland, who witnessed the accident, from a police car, said a car driven by Frederick Banks of Washington edged to the side of the road to avoid striking the police car and skidded into Stenham.

Stenham suffered two breaks in his left leg. He was taken to the hospital.

Power Went Off
Irvin explained that after the power went off, unignited fuel poured into the hot fire box and exploded on contact. He said the burner's stack-pipe and switch mechanism were blown off.

As a result of the power failure, Eddington firemen were unable to receive a fire call.

A Philadelphia Electric Company spokesman said the extreme cold had fractured a wire in a switch box, breaking off power to several hundred homes in the area.

Fairless Hills Call
The cold weather figured in a near-fire at the home of Bernard Sippes of 214 Tewksbury road, Fairless Hills, about 11:15 p. m. yesterday.

Fairless Hills and Fallstown firemen were called when a furnace at the home became overheated. Fairless Hills Fire Chief William Trimble reported. There was no fire.

Keep Them Coming!

THE CENTRAL STORAGE ROOM for the Lower Bucks County Korean food and clothing drive is getting crowded—but nobody minds that a bit. Piling up more boxes of used clothes and non-perishable foods is Anthony DiMico, of 352 Lincoln avenue, Bristol. The storage room is at Tommy's Luncheonette, Farragut avenue, Harrisburg.

Korean Help Given By Mill Street Firm

Several boxes of new sweaters and coats were donated to the Lower Bucks County Korean clothing and food drive today by J. B. Wilson Company, Mill street, Bristol.

Miss Ann McCauley, manager of the women's apparel store, presented the large cartons of clothing to Arthur Pilla, general chairman of the drive.

"We certainly appreciate this generous offer," Pilla said. He stated that the clothes had been displayed in the windows of the store's Bristol and Trenton premises, and had never been worn. He added that warm clothing is especially needed in Korea's below-freezing climate.

"Only Beginning"
The drive, which is sponsored by the Bristol and Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce, as the result of a letter describing the need of the Koreans from Capt. John J. Cole, is still "only beginning," according to Pilla.

Coats, jackets, dresses, trousers, shoes and blankets are needed in the clothing line for children and adults. Non-perishable foods such as dry milk, baby cereals and dry foods are also needed, he said.

Officials of the drive were gratified yesterday by the donation of $5 by a widow. She brought the money to Capt. Cole's father, Albert, 230 Washington street, Bristol.

The 469-foot ship will carry the first load of ore from U. S. Steel's Venezuelan mines to the Fairless Works near Morrisville.

The ship will stop at Philadelphia, en route, at 11 a. m., as bells ring from Independence Hall, Old Swedes Church and Christ Church, herald the arrival.

The welcoming party will include Venezuelan Ambassador Cesar Gonzales, who will board the anchored ore ship. The ship's master, Capt. Svante Hedin, will receive souvenirs from the city fathers and present port representatives with a case of ore from U. S. Steel's Cerro Bolivar mines.

As the ore ship proceeds up the edge of Fallington between the Friends Meeting House and the Friends burial grounds. It will go directly to the plant entrance, crossing the Pennsylvania Railroad by a bridge under construction.

It's nice dreaming about a fast, direct trip to and from your place of work, but the present traffic conditions won't permit dreaming behind the wheel of your car.

Most of the heavy traffic comes down Main street in Fallington then takes two courses. One of them is over Lower Morrisville road to an open portion of Tyburn road then to Route 13. The other follows Fallington road to Penn Valley road, then to Route 13.

Falls Township Police Chief Franklin Kirby said the heaviest traffic along the roads and particularly at the monument off Main street in Fallington occurs each morning between 6:30 and 9 a. m. and in the late afternoon between 4 and 6 p. m.

Kirby said though traffic is heavy it moves fairly steadily but he said it would move much faster when Tyburn road is ready for use. The only real hazard of the road is at Twin Bridges at Penn Valley, police said.

According to police, the best roads to take, to Fairless Works from Fairless Hills though not the most direct, are Route 1 and Pennsylvania through Morrisville, or the Levittown Parkway and Route 13.

Bristol's Police Look Back On Busy 12 Months

Was everybody busy last year? The Bristol borough police were. Or at least, the report of the police department submitted to the borough council by Linford J. Jones, chief, indicates some busy days.

According to the report submitted to the council through William McHugh, chairman of the police committee, there were 365 arrests on criminal charges and 397 arrests for automobile violations.

Meter Collections
Collections from the parking meters totaled $22,201, while parking fines amounted to $5,048. Fines paid to the borough for automobile violations were $2,807 and the state received $1,955 from the same source.

Police give the value of property stolen in the Borough at $3,812,100, while the amount of the stolen property recovered was $1,312.

The motor violations are listed as follows: Too fast for conditions, 194; reckless driving, 49; tampering with automobiles, two; defective lights, one; no registration plates, one; no permit, one; passing stop signs, 56; disregarding traffic lights, 26; without owners or operators license, four; without inspection, two; illegal turns, four; without license, 10; illegal passing, three; unnecessary noise, nine.

Motor Violations
Permitting a violation, four; illegal equipment, one; failing to make identity known at scene of accident, five; failing to stop at accident, two; improper registration, four; registration not signed, two; not in possession of registration card, three; faulty inspection, one; without rear light, one; obstructing view of operator, one; failing to obey officers signal, four; misuse of operator's license, one; failing to obey law on physical condition, one; operating on learner's permit, three; following too closely, one; parked against traffic, one.

Of the 365 arrested on criminal charges, 97 were held for court. The number fined was 157; committed to county prison, 43; turned over to other police, 10; held for

The joint water committee of Bensalem and Lower Southampton townships yesterday discussed a proposed Trevose-Feasterville water system with an official of the Philadelphia Suburban Water Co.

Attending the conference in Philadelphia with James Pierson, associate consulting engineer of Bucks County Planning Commission, Supervisors Louis Floge, of Bensalem township, and Howard Tomlinson, chairman of the Lower Southampton township board, discussed the plan with James MacIntosh, director and counsel of the water company.

The committee said they were seeking a water system only for the Trevose-Feasterville area of the two townships, part of which is now served by the Philadelphia Suburban Water Co. from a plant and source at Neshaminy Falls, on Neshaminy Creek.

Most Use Wells
Most of the 2500 homes in the area use wells, the supervisors said. They estimated the present population at 7600 and predicted that by 1955 it will rise to 10,000 people and 3500 homes.

The supervisors contended that the Trevose - Feasterville area would be a natural territory for the water firm to serve, as it has already extended its lines into a large home development north of Street road, near Trevose.

Floge and Tomlinson told MacIntosh they thought the water line could easily be extended from the new development. They emphasized that their townships were interested only in the Trevose-Feasterville area being served by the Philadelphia Suburban Water Co., and that they do not intend to seek further extensions, "which would

Need Is Given Falls Twp. Post
Elected New Head Of School Board

Alvan A. Need, 424 West Trenton avenue, Fallsington, was appointed president of the Falls Township School Board at a board meeting last night.

Need, a resident of Falls Township since 1950, has three children attending school in the Pennsylvania School District. He has been a member of the Falls Township School Board for three years and has been active in Parent-Teacher Association affairs.

The new president is also a member of the Pennsylvania Joint School Board, which is now studying the needs for a vocational high school in Bucks County. Through his association with the Joint Board, Need has been active in the building program and the extension of various school services in that area during the past few years.

Succeeds Thompson
Need succeeds Alvan A. Thompson, who resigned as president of Falls Township Board, because he is moving to another state.

Other officers named include Raymond C. Crimmins, vice-president; James P. Doheny, secretary, and George B. Roberts, treasurer. Crimmins' appointment as vice-president left a vacancy on the board, which was filled by John Hacker, of Fairless Hills. Hacker will finish Crimmins' unexpired term.

In other business, the board granted permission to the Rev. Charles E. Fair, pastor of the Christ Lutheran Church, to hold its meetings at the new Fallington School.

Meet In Fallington
The church, which formerly held services at the Edgely School, will meet in Fallington until May, when the new church building in the Falls Township section of Levittown is expected to be completed.

The board announced that any groups in Fallington that want to meet at the school should make application to the Fallington School for permission. A nominal fee, for janitorial services, is the only charge.

Bucks Squad Hq. Township Building Offered To Panel

Harry Morrell, Bristol Township safety director, last night indicated that the township would be willing to establish the base radio station for Lower Bucks County police in the Bolton Mansion.

Morrell told representatives of Lower Bucks townships and boroughs that the offer was contingent on the action of the township commissioners. The commissioners would be advised of the suggestion at a special meeting on Monday night at Emille headquarters.

On the heels of Morrell's offer came a second offer from a spokesman of the Bucks County Rescue Squad. He said that the squad could give "comparable service to that which had been proposed." There was a possibility that the squad could do the job for less money than would be required if the various police forces had to start from scratch.

Rescue Squad Facilities
The Bucks County Rescue Squad at the present time operates police radio service for Bristol and Bensalem Townships and Tullytown Borough.

The meeting, under the direction of Middletown Township Supervisor J. Russell Newbold and Chief Howard Shook, of Middletown police, bogged down when representatives were asked their opinion of the proposed radio system. All declined to make a definite statement until they could confer with their respective governing bodies.

Paul Gibson, a representative of Bell Telephone Company, was on hand to give estimated costs of the radio system. An agent of Raymond Rosen Electrical Appliances, Philadelphia, also made a similar offer to the assembled group.

Rental Basis
The system offered by the Bell Company was based completely on a rental arrangement giving 24-hour service, seven days a week through a yearly contract.

Gibson quoted a figure of $50.50 per month for the rental of land radio station equipment, antenna and remote control console. A rental fee of $20 per month was quoted on a two-way radio for each patrol car.

Aside from the fact that the police chiefs were in doubt as to the location of the base radio station, there was concern over the number of men that would be needed for the operation of the system.

Sees Need of Four Men
Chief John Stewart, of the Bristol Township police, claimed that four men would be necessary to handle the job on a 24-hour-a-day basis. From this, it was estimated that more than $12,000 a year would have to be divided up among the municipalities to support payroll costs.

To the cost of maintaining personnel to operate a station was added the cost of the base station equipment of $50 per month. The municipality would be responsible for the rental of radios for each patrol car, it was suggested.

Supervisor Newbold offered a comment that included the possibility of pro-rating each municipality according to its population and charging accordingly.

Await Bristol Township
However, nothing will be done

Tax Collections In Bristol Borough Pass Half Million

Bristol borough tax collections are moving slowly but steadily, according to Mrs. Frank L. Jenks, assistant borough tax collector.

Of a tax total of $621,236, collections at the end of December had reached $538,844.

A total of $63,127 in county institutional and occupation taxes has been collected out of the $69,973 total.

Of the borough tax total of $209,515, the sum of $189,433.77 has been received. In personal property taxes, $21,649 has been collected out of the total of $24,906.

Total school taxes to be collected amount to $311,841. Of this amount $270,638 had been collected by the end of December.

Tax collections were started in May, 1953 and will continue until the end of April of this year.

Temporary Trio Named By C. of C.

A temporary group of three was appointed at last night's meeting of the Industrial Committee of the Bristol and Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce, to make arrangements for the next meeting of the group.

Inclement weather kept four of the members from the meeting. Charles Fink, C. Donald Moyer and Daumont Kusma were designated for the temporary group.

Schwarz To Take Gavel At Yardley Council Meeting

Edward J. Schwarz, newly appointed president of Yardley Borough Council, will preside at the council meeting at 7:45 p. m. today in the municipal building.

Marshall G. Hay, retiring president, will attend the meeting to present the gavel to Schwarz. Schwarz is entering his second year as a councilman. An employee of De Laval Steam Turbine Co. of Trenton, he lives on Windsor road.

Hay, who did not seek reelection to the board, was a member for eight years and served as president for the past two. He served as finance chairman and a representative on the library board. He is president of the library board.

Directors Chosen By Free Library; Election Pending

The Fallsington Free Library elected a board of directors at a meeting at the library on Wednesday.

Elected to the board were Mrs. Emily Coghlan, Mrs. Martin D. Fisher, Jr., Joseph Goldberg, Albert Hibbs, Mrs. E. H. Jenness, Albert R. Mindler, Gerald P. Roesser, Mrs. Jane Snipes and Joseph Winder.

The board will elect officers at its February meeting in the library.

"The Hungry Four," a quartet from Newtown entertained the members attending the meeting. James Wood, Morrisville High School teacher spoke on the historical background behind the growth of Lower Bucks County.

Cases Are Listed By Rescue Squad

Transported by the Bucks County Rescue Squad yesterday were Mrs. Bernadette Stewart, of 826 Fourth avenue, Bristol, from Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., to her home; Mrs. James Guckes, of 4159 Salem street, Frankford, from 235 North Olds boulevard, Fairless Hills, to her home.

Six-month-old Robert Leite, of First avenue, Bristol Terrace II, to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, of 824 Magnolia avenue, Croydon, to Nazareth Hospital.

ably high and might also be hard to acquire.

Charles Shafer, superintendent of Bensalem township schools, reported that the questionnaires sent to the students asking their preferences of vocational subjects, although compiled, did not give the committee a clear picture.

Shafer said more information is being sought along those lines through another questionnaire which will be sent to the parents. Another survey on the industries in the area is in progress also, he said.

Combine Data
When the information of the three surveys is integrated into one report a special meeting will be held, Shafer said.

Because of weather conditions the meeting was informal among representatives of the Bristol and Bensalem townships and the Pennsylvania school boards. Representatives from three other school boards did not appear.

Pacing The Labor Beat

With The Labor Editor

News of local unions and their members will be welcomed by the COURIER. Address all communications to the Labor Editor, The BRISTOL COURIER, Bristol, Penna.

John J. Gallagher and John Ferry, both of Bristol, were re-elected chief shop steward and alternate steward of Kaiser Metal Products Company plant 2, shift A, at UAW Local 130 balloting yesterday.

Running against the two were Frank Lavrigata and Joseph Basile also of Bristol.

This afternoon elections will be held for alternate steward at plant 1, shift B. In the running are James Malloy and E. C. Palmer of Philadelphia. Andrew Yost of Riverside, N. J. was unopposed in his bid for re-election to the chief steward post at the plant.

The UE polled 5,046, the International Union of Electrical Workers, CIO, 1,048, and the International Association of Machinists, AFL, 488. Representation for 8,500 employees was involved.

The UE was ousted from the CIO in 1949 on charges that it was communist-dominated.

Earlier this week the Westinghouse firm said it is going ahead with its plans to transfer the jet engine division of its Lester plant to Kansas City, Mo. The Defense Department which has invested $25 million in power tools at the jet engine division has not yet announced a decision on the transfer.

In Washington, a poll of the Senate Labor Committee indicated almost no support for a proposal calling for government-conducted strike votes among employees who have already gone on strike.

There was some advocacy of a ballot to take place before a strike could be called. President Eisenhower advocated the principle of a strike ballot, but indicated he wants Congress to work out the details as part of changes proposed for the Taft-Hartley Law.

on the matter until Bristol Township takes action on Morrell's proposal.

The offers of both representatives to the meeting were similar mechanically, but differed on leasing. The Bell Company operates on a rental basis. The Philadelphia firm will sell, lease or operate on a combination of the two.

The plan in general includes the use of a 20 to 40 megacycle band. The engineers consider this would insure better coverage of Lower Bucks County. The single frequency transmitter-receiver would be 50 watts. The transmitter could be controlled remotely by any one of boroughs or township involved. Medium power mobile units would be installed in 11 designated police vehicles.

Roads Iced Up, Crashes Show Heavy Increase

Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., where his condition was listed good. Banks said he could not see Stembagen's crouching figure. Patrolman Peter Filipko was with the chief.

Three cars were damaged at 4:45 p. m. yesterday at Green lane and Route 13, Bristol Township, when one of the motorists, William B. Johnson, 228 Parker avenue, Upper Darby, apparently had a heart attack.

Stopped for Signal
Patrolman Robert Lawrence reported that Johnson's car was stopped for a traffic signal on Green lane in front of a vehicle operated by Fred W. Lepiere Jr. of 7176 Walker street, Philadelphia.

When the attack struck Johnson, his car shot out into Route 13 and struck a car driven by Dominick H. Marino of 2104 Cherry street, Bristol. Then Johnson's car turned around and struck Lepiere's vehicle.

Johnson was taken to Nazareth Hospital, by the Bucks County Rescue Squad for treatment, then to his home.

An hour later at Routes 13 and 413, a car driven by George Herman of 82 Air Cobra street, Fleetwings Estates, skidded on snow and ice and struck the rear of a car driven by William N. Russell of Haddon Heights, N. J. Patrolman Lawrence reported. Damage was slight.

Route 13 Collision
Cars operated by Walter P. Lavey of West Bristol and Paul Kovitch of Bridgewater road, Croydon, were damaged when they collided at 11:05 p. m. yesterday on Route 13 and Cedar avenue, Croydon. Patrolmen William Jayne and Charles Haines reported.

Two automobiles smashed into a car driven by Norman Hunter of 50 Needle Pine lane, Levittown, at 7:10 a. m. today on Route 1 at Route 413 A, Middletown Township. Police Chief Howard C. Shook reported.

A car driven by Paul Shea of 35 Deep Green lane, Levittown, struck the left side of Hunter's car when the latter began to skid broadside.

Car Demolished
As the two locked vehicles continued skidding, a car driven by C. R. Reid of 21 South State street, Newtown, coming in the opposite direction, struck Hunter's car. Chief Shook said.

There were no injuries, but Hunter's car was demolished. The other two cars sustained slight damage.

Ice and snow caused a collision between cars driven by Robert Speldal of Hulmeville Park and Richard F. Rosshauer of High street, Langhorne RD 3, last night at Newportville and Hulmeville roads, Newportville, according to Bensalem Township Patrolmen Joseph Gallagher and Joseph Picciotti.

A car driven by Fred Phillips of 264 Johnson avenue, Trenton, N. J., skidded over an embankment on Route 1 and Janney Hill, Oakford, yesterday at 6:45 p. m. when the driver swerved to avoid striking a skidding car ahead of him, police said. Phillips was uninjured.

In a similar accident a car driven by Henry Wassmer of 176 Walnut avenue, Trenton, skidded into a ditch on Route 1 between Oxford Valley and Fallsington today at 6:45 a. m., according to Chief Kirby.

OUR ERROR
Yesterday's story on the Falls Township zoning question contained an error when it reported that a proposed highway between Routes 1 and 13 would be elevated 45 feet. It will be elevated "four to five feet," according to Karl F. Ottolini, chairman of the township's zoning commission.

best be supplied from other sources."

Supply Inadequate
The water company counsel said his firm's supply is not presently adequate to permit the requested expansion. To this the bi-township committee said the company usually adds 5000 customers a year, and tension half that size.

The water firm has secured water source at Perkiomen Valley said to yield about 16,000,000 gallons a day, but has been held up in litigation over the rights to the water.

Floge and Tomlinson said they requested a further meeting with the company to go into detail on the water proposal, hoping to submit a plan to purchase the water wholesale. The townships plan to distribute the water through a system to be constructed by a local water authority.

Birthday Plans For Morrisville To Be Reviewed
The committee for celebration of Morrisville's 150th anniversary will meet at 8 p. m. Wednesday in borough hall.

Harold Kendall, chairman of celebration plans, has asked all committee chairmen to submit reports of their tentative programs and the approximate budget to Borough Secretary Robert Steward, prior to Wednesday's meeting.

The celebration, which will commemorate Morrisville's elevation to a borough in 1804, will be held the first week in May.

Tentative plans call for a giant street parade, special church programs, a banquet, a drum and bugle corps competition, a block party and the issuance of a souvenir booklet.

The public schools will take part with special study programs, assembly programs and the publication of a booklet.

Fallsington
Recent visitors of Miss Andress Kirby were Mr. and Mrs. Harris Brown and daughters, Mrs. Marion Kellett and Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Smith and daughters, Lorraine and Eileen, Trenton, N. J.

RELIST MEETING
A panel discussion with third grade parents of the Pennsylvania schools, cancelled last night because of weather conditions, has tentatively been re-scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 28.

People, Places & Things

By CAROL M. GABLER

That's Where the Money Goes:
This being National Thrift Week—as predicted in this column earlier—we've decided to investigate how much money, if any, is abounding in the area.

Delving into the archives, we came across this statement: "Economists say that the 'net worth' of the median American family—the one right in the middle, financially speaking—is $4,100. In other words, if disaster struck a typical American family, they would be able to get by for a year on Savings alone."

With wild shrieks of laughter we fell to the floor after reading this statement, sending three cents—the entire contents of our pockets—scattering throughout the room. After knocking down two other "typical American families" to retrieve the money first, we decided to look into the matter a little more closely.

"Net worth," according to the authorities on such things, is simply the cash value of your savings and properties minus what you owe. Applying this practically, if all you own is a coffee pot and the coffee pot breaks (a disaster striking), then you should be able to live the rest of the year out on your $4,100—but without coffee, of course. Applying this in our own particular case, we don't even have a coffee pot to begin with—can't afford it.

Another thing that worries us: we never did want to be "typical." But for $4,100 in the bank we'd come round easy!

A Message of Peace:

The Peace Pilgrim is going to speak at the next meeting of the Levittown-Fairless Hills branch of the American Association of University Women—and a message like the one she has to transmit is certainly worth listening to.

The Peace Pilgrim is a gray-haired woman who last year, on Jan. 1, started out from Los Angeles, walking toward the East Coast, delivering her message of peace on the 5,000 miles she covered. Her real name is not known; nobody sponsors her; she does not belong to any particular religion, though she is religious. Her message is simple: overcome evil with good. In this way, she hopes a third world conflict may be avoided. Her thesis is that the world situation is grave, but that it is still in our power to do something about it.

Kent Larrabee, of the Friends Service Association, describes the Peace Pilgrim as a woman with an unusually fine educational background, who started her long walk in order to have an opportunity to talk to the people. She brought no money with her when she started out, and has never asked for food and shelter—yet she has always been taken care of on her trip. Incidental intelligence includes this: in walking 5,000 miles in 200 walking days, the pilgrim has worn out six pairs of shoes.

She will be at the William Penn Center on Wednesday, Jan. 27, to give her message of peace.

An Icy Dish:

The next time a little child's voice rings out with, "But why is a sundae called a sundae?" be prepared. The answer is that it was originally called a "Sunday soda," made with ice cream and syrups, when the city father of Evanston, Ill., passed a law forbidding the use of soda on Sunday. Such a law is practically just cause for a revolution.

Here 'n' There:

According to the Bucks County Planning Commission, there are from 9,000 to 9,500 teenagers in the 22 municipalities of Lower Bucks County. That's quite a large number, and the Lower Bucks County branch of the YMCA, which recently proposed a fund drive for buildings for teenagers' use, deserves congratulations for positive action in trying to provide some recreation for the teenagers.

The trend to construction of toll roads has reached eleven states.

NOW . . . the "88" of tomorrow
. . . the car that Oldsmobile has years . . . will be displayed on Wednesday, January 20th!

JUST WAIT! For the most significant, the most exciting new car announcement in Oldsmobile's 57-year history. Yes, even more startling than 1940, when Hydra-Matic Drive was introduced by Oldsmobile. Even more spectacular than 1948 and the debut of Futuramic styling. Even more thrilling—believe it or not—than 1949, when Oldsmobile's first "Rocket" was launched and started a whole new era of high-compression power.

JUST WAIT! It's going to be not just a new car, but an ultra-new kind of car. A "dream car" that actually had its beginnings years and years ago. A "show car" that draws inspiration from the many experimental models of recent years. A "car of tomorrow", so basically new in styling and engineering, with so many new convenience and comfort features, that it's bound to set new trends in automotive design!

JUST WAIT! It's going to be THE "88." Remember when Oldsmobile startled the automotive world with its first "88" model? It represented a new idea in fine cars—a new balance of power and pace, style and grace—and soon became the "hottest

JUST WAIT! You're going to see a startling new kind of styling that—we warn you!—will make you dissatisfied until you actually own this car. A definite low slung "sports car" look, but American through and through. With a "new slant" on windshield design. (This will start a new trend, just watch!) A new silhouette that's longer, lower, lovelier. New fender treatment, new door design, new interiors—well, frankly, everything everywhere you look is new!

JUST WAIT! Your biggest thrill will come when you drive this car. For remember, it's a "Rocket"—and you know what a wonderful performer the "Rocket" Engine is right now. Yet for 1954, the "Rocket" will be bigger, more powerful and—here's real news—more economical than ever. Already, it's a World's-Record-breaker! In a gruelling test run at Monarch Pass, Colorado, this new 1954 Oldsmobile engine outstripped the famous 1953 "Rocket" in every phase of performance, hit the "top of the world" at the Continental Divide with far greater ease than any car had ever approached. Similarly, at the Indianapolis Speedway, in a 10,000-mile, nonstop economy run, this astonishing new "Rocket" used 10% less gasoline than a 1953 Oldsmobile.

JUST WAIT! And you won't have to wait long! This "dream car", this "car of tomorrow", this newest new Oldsmobile in fifty-seven years, is being displayed on Wednesday, January 20. So make a date with this new "88" at your Oldsmobile dealer's. JUST WAIT TILL YOU SEE IT!

The way of life is above to the wise.—Prov. 15:24.

No one ever got away from his shadow nor his memory. It is wise to live on a high level of morality and usefulness.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Fulton Lewis, Jr.

(Copyright, 1954,

King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 — The State Department cheering over Moscow's deigning to join with the Western Foreign Ministers in four-power talks on January 25, ostensibly to discuss President Eisenhower's proposal for atomic exchanges for peace, has petered out to an unhappy sigh.

There remain many opportunities for Lewis, Jr. to advertise Soviet Russia's perversity, but there is no valid reason to expect the Berlin meeting to be a success in any way.

The controlled Moscow press, carefully conditioning the Russian mind to another conference failure, blames "aggressive foreign circles" for torpedoing the Berlin meeting. This, mind you, even before the discussions begin.

The Kremlin does not have the slightest intention of considering President Eisenhower's proposal of an atomic pact for peace, and agreed to this meeting somewhat belatedly because the Communists prefer not to arouse unfavorable public opinion at this time. It does not suit Soviet diplomacy to create widespread displeasure among the self-styled non-Communist nations.

Russia has, therefore, agreed to confidential talks to prevent embarrassing pro-Soviet India, for example, while setting up impossible conditions to delay and frustrate and ultimately wash out this latest peace conference.

V. M. Molotov, veteran Foreign Minister for the U.S.S.R., is determined to maintain the status quo unless he wins at least concessions—Inclusion of Red China in any discussions looking toward a relaxation of international tensions and the abandonment of NATO.

The United States, Britain and France must, of course, reject these demands. The conference therefore is virtually pre-ordained to end in failure, but not until after the Kremlin has spread every conceivable rumor, mostly to the detriment of the United States.

Under such circumstances the changing mood in the State Department occasions little surprise.

Delhaas, listed at 799 students, is the largest, followed by Pennsylvania (745) and Neshaminy (532) in Class A. Bensalem (474) is still Class B, but may have outgrown that status even as this is being written. Then come Bristol (400), Southampton (351), Council Rock (307) and Morrisville (289) in that order.

Applying that to the current basketball race, it appears that Bristol has Bensalem and Southampton to beat out for a Class B trip to the District I playoffs, while Delhaas and Pennsylvania stage a dogfight for the Class A ticket.

PHILADELPHIA—INS—A slender seven-foot center grabbed the sports headlines today in Philadelphia with an amazing 71 point scoring spree in a Public Conference League basketball game.

Wilton Chamberlain, Overbrook High, on Thursday scored 29 field goals and 13 of 17 foul conversions, to lead his team to a 114-51 victory over Roxborough High.

Chamberlain's tallies tied the state's unofficial scholastic record set in 1951 by Swoyersville High's Joe Holup against Wilkes-Barre township in which Swoyersville won 103-59. Chamberlain is a junior.

KINER SATISFIED

CHICAGO — INS — The Chicago Cubs today await the signed contract of outfielder Ralph Kiner, former National League home run king, who has said a contract offered by the club for the 1954 baseball season is "completely satisfactory."

The London Gazette founded in 1665 was the first English news publication issued regularly in newspaper format.

Accustomed to the school boards around Lower Bucks raising red, Alvan Thompson is leaving them

Someone once wrote a neat poem, "O, where are the snows of yesterday?" Bristol people can paraphrase it nicely: "O, where are the snow plows of yesterday?"

Reading the forecast of Dr. Boehm, our superintendent of schools, that the county will have 15,000 more pupils in the next six years, you hardly know whether he is trying to frighten us or impress us.

Lazy Louie says this looks like a Russian winter, but he isn't going to blame it on the Democrats, as they have been in office in Bristol only two weeks.

OBSERVATIONS OF A RINGSIDER... Among folks of sound mind and normal habits, a cold, snowy evening next to the TV set ordinarily has it all over a sloppy, sloppy drive to some temple of exercise where a flock of muscles are scheduled to frolic in their underwear.

Accepting this as gospel, we fully expected last night's tempting Lower Bucks County Athletic Conference basketball bill at Rohm and Haas gym to be unfurled in relative privacy. It wasn't, for a fairly sizeable mob ignored climatic conditions to see what was to be seen.

It was a sort of living monument to the wet-behind-the-ears LBCAC and to the gentlemen who have labored in its behalf. And it was proof that a good attraction at the North Pole is as much attraction as a good attraction in Florida.

This turnout was more than faithful. It was generous, too, for the donation box at the gate yielded up some $14.75 when all returns were in. That's not the top figure for the year, but it is on the happy side of the average. It paid the officials, the scorer and the timer and gave the treasurer a head start on the caretaker's fee.

We've been saying all along that this LBCAC basketball is good, brisk competition. And even when it fails to measure up competitively, it is expansively entertaining.

Forty million Frenchmen, they say, are seldom wrong, but Bristol area basketball fans, who have been known to create large areas of vacuum in other seasons, have a better average. They know and appreciate good basketball.

IF THERE IS a college coach listening, he might find this in his hot tip department: Young Bob Strobele, 1953 Bristol High grad now with the LBCAC's Franklin A. C., is as brilliant a college prospect as we have seen this winter.

The little young man of some six feet, two inches, has all the equipment to excel in higher education ranks. He is far and away the most deceptive and effective driver the league knows, one of its better offensive rebounders and a fair defender. The boy will bear coaching, to be sure, but the raw material is there in abundance.

Word is Strobele was aimed at Temple last year, but failed to measure up scholastically. That, of course, could be remedied by a spell in preparatory school, where the rough edges are hewn off questionable scholars.

IN THE DEPARTMENT of clarification, these enrollment figures just released by the PIAA might be interesting.

The PIAA dubs any school with 500 students or more between grades nine and 12 as class A. Between 250 and 500, it's class B, and under 250, class C. On that table, the Lower Bucks County League has three class A and five class B schools in its membership at this time.

Delhaas, listed at 799 students, is the largest, followed by Pennsylvania (745) and Neshaminy (532) in Class A. Bensalem (474) is still Class B, but may have outgrown that status even as this is being written. Then come Bristol (400), Southampton (351), Council Rock (307) and Morrisville (289) in that order.

Wilt the Stilt Sets Mark With 71 Pts.

PHILADELPHIA—INS—A slender seven-foot center grabbed the sports headlines today in Philadelphia with an amazing 71 point scoring spree in a Public Conference League basketball game.

Wilton Chamberlain, Overbrook High, on Thursday scored 29 field goals and 13 of 17 foul conversions, to lead his team to a 114-51 victory over Roxborough High.

Chamberlain's tallies tied the state's unofficial scholastic record set in 1951 by Swoyersville High's Joe Holup against Wilkes-Barre township in which Swoyersville won 103-59. Chamberlain is a junior.

KINER SATISFIED

CHICAGO — INS — The Chicago Cubs today await the signed contract of outfielder Ralph Kiner, former National League home run king, who has said a contract offered by the club for the 1954 baseball season is "completely satisfactory."

The London Gazette founded in 1665 was the first English news publication issued regularly in newspaper format.

Someone once wrote a neat poem, "O, where are the snows of yesterday?" Bristol people can paraphrase it nicely: "O, where are the snow plows of yesterday?"

Reading the forecast of Dr. Boehm, our superintendent of schools, that the county will have 15,000 more pupils in the next six years, you hardly know whether he is trying to frighten us or impress us.

Franklin A. C. outgunned Kaiser Metal, 85-77, and Rohm and Haas aavalanche Bensalem Alumni, 85-53, last night in Rohm and Haas' weatherproof clubhouse and caused considerable stirring among first divisionites in the Lower Bucks County Athletic Conference chase.

Franklin, of course, tightened its stranglehold on first place, while Kaiser skidded into third behind idle Levittown A. A. Rohm and Haas, meanwhile, elevated itself into an undisputed fourth place ahead of Torano's Garage.

The weather was bad, but a sizeable following came on in because the basketball was fine. Offensive basketball, that is. All four teams shot with amazing consistency and all, save Bensalem, were slightly terrific in marksmanship.

Accardi Sizzles

For good example, Kaiser's Andy Accardi, a quiet workman, pumped in 16 field goals with less than half that number of shots and accumulated 35 points in the afterglow to lead all scorers. In fact, the impression was created that a vastly undermanned Kaiser team might have been cantankerous indeed had not Accardi sat out some six minutes, including the final three, because of excessive fouling. The Metalmen had only six men around for the game, and the absentees included rebounder Carl Janetka, among notable others.

Franklin, on the other hand, had two full shifts on deck, and that's the way pilot Pete DeLuca used them. Pete's efforts to please everybody may have done something toward keeping the game interestingly close all the way.

Four Franklins landed in double figures. Mike Faccioli, the league's most effective gunner, posted 23, matching his average. Bob Strobele had 17, Little Joe Maioriello 14 and gigantic Russ Eckert 11. Behind Accardi for Kaiser came Bob Lattanzi, who was superlative under the rims, with 22, and Charlie Merico with 11.

Three Ties

The combatants tied three early knotes before Franklin went out front, 24-19, at the first quarter and stayed there. Accardi had nine points in the first round, but seven by Faccioli and five each by Strobele and Bill Curran were neutralizers.

Franklin made it up to 45-33 by halftime, chiefly because Accardi committed his fourth personal foul in the second period and sat a spell. Maioriello's three straight rings persuaded the Franklins to a 21-point effort.

Matters tightened in the third round when Accardi returned to post 11 points, while DeLuca continued to platoon his squadrons. Faccioli's six points kept the Jets out front by a bare 62-57 going into the stretch. Accardi hit again in the fourth round began to cut it to 62-59. But Maioriello arched home two quickies to keep the losers honest. Franklin then rolled up a 13-point edge, only to see it dissolve to five notches on the brilliant shotmaking of Accardi and Lattanzi's perfection at the free line.

Accardi Leaves

Accardi departed, however, with three minutes left in the game, and Kaiser's upset chances went with him. In the loose basket-trading that followed, opportunist Faccioli pumped in three ringers to feed his average.

It was the second loss to Franklin for the Metalmen, who apparently can whip everyone else.

Rohm and Haas uncorked a 35-field goal barrage on helpless Bensalem in the opener and breezed despite the absence of Hugh Bowe. Walt Zook, in business under the irons, had a field night against the short Bennies for 25 points and setshooting Pat Carnvale fired 17. Toby Oriola's 14 stripes, 12 in the last half, made it a rout.

Bensalem, down, 17-8, at the end of the first period and mauled out of the rebound department by Zook, Augie Everett and Oriola, was never in it. The Alumni did manage to close in at 25-23 by halftime on the shooting of Jack Smith and Ed Fleming, but it was just a ripple. They were outscored, 25-9 in the third period and 32-21 in a wild finale.

Fleming and Ron Elliott had 16 each and Smith posted 11 for the losers. Elliott, however, had one of his poorer nights, chiefly because of misconduct at the free tape where he blew nine of 13 shots.

It will be Rohm and Haas against Morrisville and Kaiser against Bensalem in the loop's next Twinkbill Sunday.

Crosby Tournament Opens for Field of 124 Pros, Amateurs

PEEBLE BEACH, Calif. —(INS) — Nearly 250 golfers tee off today in the Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Tournament at Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula for the first round of the 54 hole event which concludes Sunday.

Galleries expressed great pre-tournament interest in having the opportunity of following such movie stars as Bob Hope, Dean Martin and Randy Scott rather than the field of 124 of the nation's top professionals.

Another of the all-time golf greats, Byron Nelson, the semi-retired Roanoke, Tex., rancher, was ready for the Cypress Point layout with his amateur partner Ed Lowery, San Francisco auto magnate.

It was this duo that made news during Thursday final practice round when Nelson and Lowery teamed for a 12 under par best ball of 60. Nelson came out of retirement in 1951 to win professional honors in this event.

Low Worsham, the 1953 leading money winner among the professionals, had a 67 at Cypress Point, while young Jack Burke, a Ryder Cup team member, tamed fearsome Pebble Beach with a two under par 70.

COLTS PICK EWBANK

BALTIMORE — (INS) — Wilber Ewbank, line coach of the Cleveland Browns for the past five years, has been named head coach of the Baltimore Colts to succeed Keith Molesworth.

ROSEN HONORED

PHILADELPHIA — INS — Al Rosen, slugging third baseman of the Cleveland Indians, today was named recipient of the Brith Shalom national sports award for 1953.

LBCL'S FINEST

Tribe, Flock in Showdown

The Lower Bucks County League intensifies its efforts to scramble Bristol High's repeat championship plans tonight when it sends respectable Pennsylvania into the Warriors' long, narrow lair.

In dispatching the Falcons, the LBCL probably is doing the best it can to make a race out of the flag chase. The Orange and Black were 1953 runners-up — they even forced the Tribe into a post-season title playoff — and are now sporting a 2-0 loop mark, the only other clean report card afloat.

This collision, to be introduced by a 7 o'clock jayvee mix between two more unbeaten (in the league), highlights a program of two attractions. In the other Bensalem, Pennsylvania may get a look-in. The Falcons have been pretty stingy this winter, permitting an average of but 41.3 points a game while winning five of seven starts. The Birds gave Central Bucks 54 points in an opener, but have restricted six other teams to 49 or fewer since. Three different enemies failed to get out of the 30's.

Strong rebounding by Mike Bal-

A Neshaminy High team that Coach Fred Gerst has promised "will surprise somebody," did it for 16 minutes yesterday at Rohm and Haas clubhouse, Bristol.

But there was little surprise in a thumping last half Delhaas High rally that carried the Tigers to a 57-42 victory over the Langhorne entry.

It was the third win in four Lower Bucks County League starts for the resilient Tigers, whose seven-game activity is marred only by a beating at Bristol hands. The nod solidified Delhaas' third place grip in the loop and put it in good position to jump a notch, no matter who wins tonight's Pennsbury-Bristol showdown.

Yesterday's matinee, set up a day and shifted from its scheduled site, Neshaminy's brand new, but incomplete gym, was a story of two men and a mess of boys. Stan Covington, the Redskins' six-two junior pivot, won the first half; and Bob Morris, Delhaas' six-foot senior center, copped the second.

Stan Is Top Man

Covington, who led all scorers with 24 points, had 14 of them as the Tribe took a 12-11 first quarter edge and held on to a 24-23 intermission advantage. The Tigers melted that deficit down to nothing but quickly in the third quarter and went ahead forever when Morris landed ten of his total 19 points.

'Help Your Neighbor' Policy Is Adopted by Club at Levittown

A "Help Your Neighbor" policy has been adopted by members of Levittown Women's Club. This decision was made at the club's January meeting Wednesday evening in Tullytown Fire Company station.

Request for participation in such policy has been made by a Levittown physician. Members will, when request is made through the club, go to assistance of their neighbors, when illness strikes. This service is to be free. Named as co-chairmen of the committee for such are Mrs. Robert Brindlinger, 30 Evergreen lane, and Mrs. Harriet Rittenhouse, 72 Friendly lane.

The club will also participate in the "Mothers March on 'Polio'" Jan. 26, chairman being Mrs. Robert Walter, 25 Midwood lane.

Presiding officer was Mrs. W. David Price. The program, in addition to presentation of flags to two Brownie troops and one intermediate troop, included review of the book "Lord Vanities" (Shellabarger), by Mrs. E. H. Jenness, of Morrisville High School Library.

Members were informed that services of a professional auditor has been secured.

Mrs. Willard C. Calkins, Jr., chairman of the bazaar arranged for next fall, stated that hand-made items provided by members, will be sold.

The spring dance date is yet to be set, chairman being Mrs. Walter. The club will cooperate with Levittown Civic Association education committee in forming adult education courses. Site for the 10 weeks courses on a variety of subjects is yet to be designated.

Mrs. Joseph Clayton was named chairman of the nominating committee. Nomination and election are scheduled for April.

An executive board meeting is to be held Feb. 3rd at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Kelly, 25 Schoolhouse lane.

The next club meeting, Feb. 10, will be conducted in the social hall of Faith Reformed Church, Levittown Parkway. This will be "men's night," husbands of members being guests.

Department and division meeting dates were announced as follows: American Home, Jan. 27, in Levittown Civic Center; welfare, Jan. 28, at home of Mrs. Robert Buxton, 2 Good lane; music, each Tuesday at home of Mrs. Mary Barnick, 1 Stream lane; arts and crafts, Jan. 25, at home of Mrs. Vivian Brandle, 8 Sugar Maple lane; drama, Jan. 25, at home of Mrs. Nancy Vogt, 190 Farmbrook drive; education, Feb. 1st, at home of Mrs. Harry Conn, 32 Laurel lane; conservation and gardens, Jan. 27, at Mrs. William Kent's home, Garden lane; literature, Jan. 18, with Mrs. John J. Crawley hostess at her home, 29 Fortune lane; public affairs, date to be announced.

"A duty to ourselves;
A duty towards our neighbors;
A duty towards God"

Beloved: The grace of God our Savior has appeared to all men, instructing us, in order that, rejecting ungodliness and worldly lusts, we may live temperately and justly and piously in this world; looking for the blessed hope and glorious coming of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us that He might redeem us from all iniquity and cleanse for himself an acceptable people, pursuing good works. Thus speak, and exhort, in Christ Jesus, Our Lord.

Keep An Eye on the Scales

Conover Career Girl Course

STUDENTS AT A CAREER SCHOOL learn to get on the scales every day. They watch their weight and so stay slim and lovely.

By HELEN FOLLETT

WOMEN who find they are a bit overweight had better keep a sharp watch on their chins so they won't double.

One rule to be kept ever in mind is keep your chin up. Your head will have a pleasing pose and your chin will be likely to remain normal. The level-headed woman does not throw her head forward nor does she hold it too high. Either pose is awkward.

Be faithful to your complexion creaming every night of your life. If your chin looks as if it were about to go double, pick up the flesh between finger and thumb, roll it firmly. Do that at night. In the morning, dash on cold water, apply a skin tonic or astringent. Do not overlook the benefits of ice frictions and cold rinsings.

While doing all this, consider your eating habits. If you are only ten or fifteen pounds overweight, don't be confident that you won't go right on gaining—a few pounds this year, more pounds the next.

Avoid fattening foods. Instead of buttered white bread have unbuttered rye toast. Skip cream and sugar in your coffee; in course of time you will prefer it clear. Don't eat pastries; they contain fats, starches and sweets, roll it firmly. Do that at night. In

Parents' Criticism of Schools Should Be Kept Constructive

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

DURING the years I have been writing this column, I have refrained from criticizing teachers or printing letters from parents who criticized them.

On the contrary, I have encouraged parents to boost the teacher's morale, celebrating her successes. However, I have, at times, questioned some educational practices and philosophies underlying them.

Recommended Reading

Yesterday, I urged you to read "Let's Talk Sense About Our Schools," by Paul Woodring (McGraw-Hill). I noted that he clearly presents the main issues on public education which are being so widely discussed by parents, and affirms that while the public should have considerable say about what is taught, it is the province of teachers to say how it shall be taught.

No matter what we parents think about defining these fields, we need to be concerned about the harm we may do by our criticism of the teacher, either concerning what is taught or how. We can easily discuss our ideas and feelings about her, giving the impression that she symbolizes the whole school system, its practices and underlying philosophy. Sometimes, she must bear all sorts of criticisms.

Increasingly, she is called upon to serve on committees to draw up the curriculum and agree on a more or less concerted procedure. In the long run, she will be able more and more to interpret, for those higher up in the system, what parents think and feel about the school program.

Meanwhile, she has had to bear much of the brunt of criticism by parents. Let me entreat you, my fellow parents, not to make her way so hard. It's hard enough now with such large classes, crowded space and ridiculously low financial rewards. Let's be more sensible, considerate and humane.

Constructive Criticism

Let us air our views in open forums with the superintendent of schools and his immediate assistants and the board of education. It would be fine if many teachers also participated in these forums, which need to include all representative persons of the community, and not any special pressure group.

As I have pointed out in earlier columns, the National Citizens Commission, 2 West 45th Street, New York 19, New York, has encouraged the formation and activities of local committees representing the whole community. This nonprofit organization, with financial support from the Carnegie Corporation, The General Education Board and the New York Community Trust, has set for itself two immediate goals: first, to help Americans realize how important our public schools are to our expanding democracy; second, to arouse in each community the intelligence and will to improve our public schools.

Anybody may receive the Commission's literature free by writing to its offices.

ELIZABETH WOODWARD SAYS:

Wishful Thinking Doesn't Bring Dates

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I like a fellow who is in the service. I went out with him a few times before he went overseas. Since he's gone I know I still like him although he hasn't written to me since he left. His friend has asked me to go for a walk with him several times but I've turned him down. If I just wait for letters I might never get even one, then my chance with the other fellow would be gone. What should I do? Should I write to the one overseas and tell him how I feel?"

But are you really and truly, seriously and for sure certain of how you feel? You had a few dates with this boy who was going overseas. Those dates were fun and particularly exciting because of his uniform and the imminent parting that faced you both. You were tempted to rush into feeling that this was a big romance and you let yourself fall for him pretty fast.

That it wasn't to him the beginning of a big and permanent thing is shown by the fact that he hasn't written. If he had tumbled hard for you, you'd have heard about it by every mail.

Waiting for letters that never come is a disappointing business. And staying faithful to a relationship that isn't kept alive by letters is equally fruitless. What evidence did the boy give you that you meant anything more to him than a congenial date? How true did he ask you to be to him?

If the answer to both questions is a goose egg, then those walks with his friend would do you nothing but good. They can be just walks for conversation and companionship. They can be an opportunity for getting better acquainted. They can be the beginning of something big. And you'll have your eyes and your ears to help you figure him out—instead of the teasing of your imagination.

Dis-Persuade Yourself

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: The boy I was going steady with is now going steady with another girl. I've tried to like other boys but I can't—I find I still like him. Once he told me if I ever found I still loved him I should let him know somehow. What do you think I should do?"

So you tell him you still love him. You write him a note, you call him on the phone, you stop him on the street. You give him the news. Aren't you teasing yourself in thinking that he's going to give you the big welcome back? He already has another girl. He'd have that little matter to handle before he could (if he wanted to) do anything interesting about you.

You've been clinging to that shred of hope he held out to you in a soft moment—and it's kept you from really trying to like other boys. So persuade yourself he didn't really mean what he told you. Then you won't tease yourself with wishing.

The first printing press in Philadelphia was set up by William Bradford in 1685, just two years after the town was settled.

YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . . . by Stella

FRIDAY, JANUARY 15 — Born today, you have a keen mind and one which is equipped to handle any problem presented you, efficiently and decisively. You are usually a long way ahead of your nearest competitor, too, for you have the ability to get at the facts, interpret them, and use them almost instantly. You will succeed brilliantly just so long as you keep your self-confidence. Never lose your grip on things, even for an instant, or you are lost!

You have a keen sense of humor. Let it help you to laugh if temporary adversity comes. For, to approach a problem with optimism is half the battle won. You have considerable self control and seldom lose your temper, no matter how hard pressed you may become. Your great difficulty is that you get discouraged a little too easily when the going is rough. If you go into business, select a partner who can give you a "pep talk" when you most need it!

In fact, a marriage partner could be just the inspiration that you need for happiness and success. Just make very sure that it is someone who sees eye to eye with you in everything. Naturally affectionate, you crave devotion—as well as attention—from the one you love.

You are a good manager but are inclined to be a rather harsh taskmaster. You expect all who work with you to labor as earnestly as you are willing to.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, January 16

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Finish up any neglected housework early today, so that you can plan to enjoy yourself this evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — There is a rugged week ahead, so take time now to relax tensions and store up fresh energy for it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — If a friend seems to be in some difficulty, do what you can to be helpful. Do your "good deed" today!

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — You may have things to do at home which have been waiting all week. See that they get done efficiently.

Taurus (Apr. 21-May 21) — Haste can make waste and carelessness can result in serious loss, so take your time and be cautious.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Try and take time out for some profitable work at home if you have been busy at the office all week.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Relax at home and see that you don't do a bit more than is absolutely necessary.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — If you can finish your home chores early today, there will be plenty of time for fun and relaxation.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Make your week end plans carefully so that you can accomplish all that you have planned to get done.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — If you are economical now, you will find that the budget will stretch for something you may not need, but want!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — If you have been smart, you have wound up all important work and can now have an enjoyable time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — Be sure that what you have been working so hard to gain is really what you want most out of life.

Teachers Are Eager to Find Posts in Busy Bucks County

There's no teacher shortage in Lower Bucks County—yet. Although the rapid increase of homes, families, pupils and schools in the area has created hundreds of new teaching jobs, school boards so far have found plenty of applicants, according to Dr. Morton Hotel, reading consultant of the Bucks County school superintendent's office.

Theft of Driver's License Is Worth Jail, Judge Says

DOYLESTOWN — Confronted with a ticklish legal problem as to whether an application for an operator's license has value President Judge Hiram H. Keller and Judge Edward G. Biester in Quarter Sessions Court ruled that an operator's application does have personal value.

"If a motorist loses his or her application card it costs a fee to get another and is quite a complicated process," said Judge Biester.

A West Bristol youth, Owen Good, 19, fourth and Broadwood, who was repairing the car of Anthony Ambrogetti, 436 Washington st., Bristol, testified he stole the operator's application card.

Signed Own Name

The youth, a former Air Force soldier, admitted that he cut the operator's license card from the application, erased the name of Anthony Ambrogetti and signed his own name on the card.

Philip E. Jones, Morrisville, who was appointed counsel for the teenager by the court, argued to the court that an application for a driver's license does not have personal value until it becomes an operator's license card after approval by the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

President Judge Keller continued the case until Jan. 25 and allowed the defendant to go home with his grandfather.

The defendant, who has been in jail between 11 and 14 days, was arrested by Bristol Patrolman Vincent Faragalli Dec. 15.

Could Be Held for Forgery

District Attorney Donald W. Van Arsdale and Judges Keller and Biester agreed that Good could easily be indicted under forgery if the larceny and receiving stolen goods charges cannot be "made to stick."

The defendant, who was described as one of the "problem boys" in Bristol, roams the streets between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, said Patrolman Faragalli. "That's an easy way to get into trouble," he added.

Good also had an obscene photo and typewritten story in his wallet when apprehended but denied that he attempted to sell or exhibit them. "I got them at a party when they were passed around and put them into my pocket."

Won't Press Lewd Charge

Counts of distribution of obscene literature and unlawful possession of obscene literature will not be pressed by the District Attorney's Office.

"Good, you spent two days in the Bristol Municipal Jail and about 11 days in the County Prison and you have been punished," said President Judge Keller.

The defendant, who testified he was in the Air Force 13 months and has been discharged as undesirable, admitted he missed two shipments for overseas because he "wasn't around."

Historical Society To Hear of Clocks

Clocks, clockmakers and clock-making will be the topic of a talk by S. H. Harrington, of Norristown, a well-known clock expert, at a meeting of the Bucks County Historical Society Friday, Feb. 5.

The talk will be at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the Elkins Building, Pine and Ashland streets, Doylestown.

Harrington, whose private collection of time pieces numbers in the hundreds, is considered one of the foremost authorities in the United States.

The talk is open to the public.

CAUTION IS THE WORD

Marine Association Is Ready To Aid Skaters Trapped By Breaking Ice

Ice skaters taking advantage of Lower Bucks County's cold snap were urged to be cautious in a statement by the Inter-State Marine Association today.

The group, after discussing the dangers of thin ice last night at a meeting in Newportville Fire Station, directed the warning especially to new residents of the area. They felt newcomers might not be as familiar with ice conditions as old timers.

Before skating or walking on a frozen canal, pond or stream, the association said, ask an experienced person if he considers the ice safe.

By Bob Reinhardt

Lower Bucks County—yet.

Although the rapid increase of homes, families, pupils and schools in the area has created hundreds of new teaching jobs, school boards so far have found plenty of applicants, according to Dr. Morton Hotel, reading consultant of the Bucks County school superintendent's office.

The superintendent's office, recently renamed the Bucks County School Service Center, receives so many applications and inquiries from prospective teachers that a staff member, Mrs. Melda Snyder, has a full-time job forwarding inquiries to local school boards and contacting colleges.

Teachers from almost every state in the union ask about jobs here, Dr. Hotel said, because they are so impressed with reports of Lower Bucks County, and because local school boards have a good national reputation with teachers.

"There is a kind of romance about Levittown that has been built up in the popular mind," Dr. Hotel said. "New teachers have told me they came here because exciting things are happening."

"Like Excitement"

"They like the excitement of new people who have not gotten their roots in, and are still pliable. A teacher who comes here feels that he is a part of the large development, that he isn't shackled by tradition. The people are developing their own school programs."

A Levittown resident, Dr. Hotel confessed that this "excitement" induced him to move his home from Doylestown to 31 Mulberry lane.

Dr. Hotel emphasized that the county school superintendent, Dr. Charles H. Boehm, and his staff do not dictate to local boards, but "serve the local school boards in whatever problems we can assist them."

Good Place to Work

The county's teachers consider Bucks County a good place to work, Dr. Hotel said, because local boards have provided good administrators and kept faculty salaries high.

"The school boards have provided a supervisory staff of people who understand instruction and know how to make teachers feel effective in their work. The local supervisors," Dr. Hotel said, "are morale builders who can make effective teachers more effective."

Praising local policies on teachers' pay, Dr. Hotel said the school boards have continued to raise minimum salaries above that of surrounding communities.

Ahead of State

"The state requires a minimum of $2400," he said, "but teachers' salaries in Lower Bucks County schools start at $3000."

For the past four years, these boards have continued to raise salaries by an average of $400 a year, instead of the state-mandated $200, he said.

Many of Lower Bucks County's new classes are taught by Levittown and Fairless Hills housewives who once left the classroom for the kitchen, but were coaxed out of retirement since moving here.

The county superintendent, in a leaflet distributed to prospective buyers of Levittown and Fairless Hills homes, has inserted this note: "If you are a trained teacher, you can make a real contribution to your community by returning to the classroom. Contact the (local school officials) if interested."

Appeal Effective

The appeal has apparently been effective, judging from the large number of active teachers residing in the two developments.

Despite the fact that the energetic growth of Lower Bucks County has so far attracted sufficient teachers, Dr. Hotel said the needs will greatly increase as the growth accelerates. He said nation-wide figures, in contrast to the bright situation locally, show that old teachers are retiring faster than young ones are graduating from college.

Continue Raises

"We will have to continue raising minimum salaries, as well as the annual increment and maximum salaries," he said. "The top pay should be sufficient so that teachers will be encouraged to stay in the field."

Dr. Boehm yesterday, in considering the county's future needs, estimated that within six years 500 additional teachers will be needed to instruct 15,000 new pupils. He said the pupil population, now close to 33,000, may increase by 18,000 in 1960.

TRACINGS FOR A SWIMMING pool in Memorial Park, Bristol, are examined by borough Councilman Nicholas Pascale and his wife. Blueprints and specifications for the $65,000 project will be ready within a week, according to Pascale. He hopes to organize a drive to raise funds for the pool.

Common Problems Unite 3 Area PTA's

A meeting among representatives of PTA's of Bensalem, Cornwall and Trevores-Penn Valley has brought to the front the question of uniting on common problems.

Harry Carter presided at the meeting, at which organized legislative activity on the part of the groups was discussed. Carter was elected permanent chairman of the group, which intends to meet regularly during the school year.

Attending the first joint meeting of the three organizations was Robert K. Shafer, Bensalem township superintendent of schools; Dr. Phyllis O. Edwards, elementary school supervisor, and Norman C. Gaugler, secretary of Bensalem township school board.

Shafer told the group that if the present trend of home building in the township continues, the new Bensalem township high school, scheduled to open next year, will not begin to solve the problem of overcrowding.

Mrs. Evelyn Stahl, president of the Trevores-Penn Valley PTA, and Harry Carter, president of the Cornwall PTA, were appointed to draw up a program of action to be presented to the joint membership.

Named to Committee

Mrs. Edith Carey, president of the Andalusia PTA, Mrs. Dorothy Schrieber, of Trevores, and Mrs. Margaret Speck, of Cornwall, were named to a committee to discuss the problem. They will also discuss whether or not the practice of photographing children in the school will be continued.

A committee to promote interest in a vocational school in the area was appointed following discussion of the topic. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Rae Schwarz, Andalusia; Mrs. Florence Muller, Cornwall; and Philip Koons, Trevores.

Vincent P. Lappan, Cornwall, was appointed to contact the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to ask that a route be left open, or detours be built, to assure routes for school buses.

Dr. Edwards spoke to the group, stressing the need of welcoming newcomers into the local parent-teacher organizations.

The group will meet again in April, when a talk on the school board as a policy-making body will be given.

Herman Esterline, of the Bristol borough police, was re-elected president of the Fraternal Order of the Police, Bucks County Lodge 53, at last night's meeting at the Edgely lodge home.

Twenty-two police officers, representing Bristol borough and township, Falls township and Tullytown borough attended the meeting, in spite of the snow storm.

Also elected at the meeting were: John Dugan, Bristol borough, vice-president; John Walterick, Tullytown, recording secretary; Harvey Shaw, Bristol township, financial secretary; Vincent Faragalli, Bristol borough, treasurer.

Trustees Named

Trustees elected were: Hugh McCue, Falls township; Benjamin Parto, Tullytown; and Charles Niccol, Bristol borough. John Chichilitti, Bristol borough, was elected guard; Charles Haines, Bristol township, conductor; George Shirer, Bristol borough, chaplain and Pat Coia, Tullytown, alternate chaplain.

The nomination and election of officers were combined in one meeting, so committee appointments may be made at an earlier date. The appointments will be at the February meeting.

Accepted as Members

Two acting police officers, Wes Worsman and Gino Mattozzi, of Falls township, were accepted as members of the lodge.

John Dugan, vice-president, will be in charge of publicity for the lodge.

A budget for 1954 was presented at the meeting and a report was given on the progress of the pistol range. The annual banquet of the organization was discussed.

Driver Ordered To Pay $75 Fine In Hit-Run Case

DOYLESTOWN—Walter Forsy, 2 Narcissus lane, Levittown, who pleaded guilty to hit and run, was sentenced in Quarter Sessions Court to pay a $75 fine and the costs of prosecution. Officer Sabastian Parto made the arrest Nov. 27.

Paul E. Taver, 301 Walnut st., Bristol, who pleaded guilty to drunken driving, was sentenced to pay a $200 fine and the costs of prosecution. Bristol Patrolman William Shire made the arrest in Bristol Nov. 30.

James W. Jones, Sr., 434 Pond street, Bristol, pleaded guilty to drunken driving, was fined $150 and the costs of prosecution. Bristol Patrolman Matthew Bragg made the arrest Nov. 22.

Walter Sentenced

Joseph J. Dooley, 3 Rose av., Maple Shade, N. J., a Philadelphia waiter, pleaded guilty to drunken driving and was sentenced to pay a $200 fine and the costs of prosecution. Officer Neal Hepler made the arrest Dec. 13 in Bristol township.

The case of Edward Comfort, Second avenue, Eddington, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, was withdrawn by agreement with the prosecution and permission by the District Attorney's office and the court.

The case of Russell B. Johnson, 902 Warren street, Bristol, charged with assault and battery and other counts involving a husband-and-wife fracas, was withdrawn by permission by the court and District Attorney's office.

Fined on Tippy Count

Edward C. Walker, Langhorne, RD 2, pleading guilty to drunken driving, was fined $100 and the costs of prosecution and sentenced to not less than two months nor more than one year in jail. Falls township Patrolman Julius Meszaros made the arrest Dec. 25.

Harry E. Schmidt, Eddington, who pleaded guilty to stealing a bundle of siding, was sentenced to serve not less than 30 days nor more than six months in the County Prison. The defendant stole materials from William Levitt & Sons, Inc., Aug. 17.

Bensalem C. of C. Is Represented At N. Y. Conference

Social security was the subject of a conference sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce yesterday, attended by Earle S. Tomlinson, executive secretary of the Greater Bensalem Chamber of Commerce.

The day-long program was held at the McAlpin Hotel, New York City.

A. D. Marshall, manager of employee benefits of General Electric Co., Schenectady, outlined the national chamber's stand on social security. The organization favors universal coverage for all who are gainfully employed, immediate payments to the presently unprotected aged, elimination of federal grants for old-age relief and placing the system on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Also included in the program of speeches and discussion were addresses by Congressman Carl C. Curtis (R) Nebraska, chairman of the social security sub-committee of the House ways and means committee; Frank C. Cliffe, vice-president of H. T. Heinz Co.; Henry Blagden, of the Prudential Life Insurance, and Leonard T. Cathoun, attorney of Washington, D.C.

Bristol Yacht Club Fetes Commodore

The Bristol Yacht Club held its commodore's banquet, an annual affair, at Flannery's restaurant, Pennell, Tuesday evening.

The function honored the retiring commodore, Ronald Swain. He gave a summary of the club's activities during the past 12 months and told of its progress.

Mr. Swain introduced the new commodore, James Cooper, who in turn introduced the other officers. These included Vice-commodore, Henry Ancker; rear commodore, Charles LaPolla, Jr.; treasurer, Theodore B. Megawake, Jr.; secretary, Donald Wanmaker; trustees, Clarence Hamm, and Carl Archer. Swain also is a trustee.

The new commodore predicted activities on the river the coming season will surpass past years.

Dancing followed.
